When questioned....

i.e. in body language:

- So... here you are going to be introduced on how to identify lying through the traits in the handwriting.

How To See Dishonesty?

- However today, I am going to share with you one, the most easiest to see dishonesty trait in the handwriting.
- The dishonesty trait that I am going to share with you today can be seen in the communication zone of the handwriting.

Lying Trait

- This lying trait is revealed by the letter 'o'.
- It is revealed by double loops made on the left and the right of the letter 'o'.
- Example as below:

Lying Trait

- The bigger the loops, the bigger the lie.
- If you find just one of this double loops in an 'o' from a whole page of a sample handwriting then the writer is not a liar but there is some truth that he is not telling at that moment.
- However if you find double loops everywhere in the 'o' of the sample handwriting then you should be careful with the writer.
- Run if you can...

- You need to dig deeper and understand why the writer lies.
- Dishonesty never brings any good to anybody.
- Handwriting can be a window in getting to know the owner of the handwriting.
